

Pre-School Committee

Hugs, kisses, letters, pictures and total adoration is what a member of the Pre-School Committee receives on a daily basis. These matric girls have the honour of influencing and creating memories in each little life they touch. The pre-grade girls look up to them and love the interaction. They are encouraged to be kind and to respect others.

The committee's involvement starts at 7:10 in the Early Bird class, where the girls that need to be dropped off early, can wait until their teachers are available. During this short, but very special time, the committee members become children again, colouring in, playing with lego, reading stories and participating in the dress-up corner.

Every Friday at break, the committee visits the Pre-School girls, who are always very excited to see them arrive. On the playground you will see piggy-back rides, laughter, friendship and the magical world of princesses and imaginary friends.

Every year the committee also hosts a number of special projects, such as a sprinkler day, theme days, a trip to the theatre or the zoo, dress-up days, picnics and tea-parties. During this time together, the matric girls learn as much from the little one as the little ones learn from them. Being a member of the pre-grade committee is extremely rewarding and memorable.
